Dear Mr. Levin:

Your staff recently completed the addition of a sun room to our home. When we initiated the order through Home Depot, we did not realize that we would be dealing with your firm. That turned out to be a pleasant surprise.

From our first contact, Ray Collins, through office contacts, the able building teams led by Jason and Chad, Electrician Joe and Supervisor Billy Moss, we were impressed by some shared traits. Everyone treated us with courtesy, listened to our input, responded promptly to concerns, and generally made the entire experience a pleasure. We were sorry to see them go.

You've done a great job selecting and developing a staff that is customer-centric in all things. That alone would not have earned our approbation, however. They had to do the job right. From what we can see at this early date, they have. Everything looks great and works well. You have happy customers here.

Yours,

Douglas & Karen Ramseyer
