Dear Sirs:

I am writing to let you know that my wife and I really like the new roof that your men installed on our patio. The old roof was installed in 1991, was worn out and leaking every time it rained. We checked with the same company about replacing this roof before we saw your product. It was the same material and workmanship that they used in 1991. Your product was so superior like it would last forever and the installers put metal sheeting all around the sides. The main thing, it has not leaked a drop and we are so happy with that.

Sincerely,

Everett H. Summers
